

Centralized payment

Best-in-class cross-channel transaction management solution to maximize performance and security

- Centrally manage transactions from all points of sale
- Reduce PCI DSS certification cost
- Manage all cashless payment schemes, loyalty and wallet cards while strengthening security with global anti-fraud tools
- Optimize processing costs thanks to a flexible acquirer management system
- Streamline your IT architecture with standard ECR integration

Ingenico's cross-channel centralized payment solution guarantees PCI DSS security between all your points of sale and acquirers.

Reliable Payments Management

Whether payments are on-line or in-store, our solution ensures the most reliable transaction management- always and everywhere.

PCI DSS Ready

Choosing our PCI-DSS certified solution including P2PE feature makes the security certification process simpler. We also protect you from fraud by allowing you to monitor your terminals. With security concerns out of the way, you can fully focus on your core business.

Customizable Payment Solution

Our solution makes value-added cards integration easy: gift, loyalty and wallets. Customize your payment solution and bring your payment system in line with your business process.

Card Acceptance Costs Reduction

Benefit from transaction volumes and lower your card acceptance costs. Our solution can dynamically route your transaction according to your business logic.

Cross-channel Acceptance

Increase sales and improve your visibility on the market with cross-channel payments. Our centralized payment solution allows you to provide new customer experiences between the internet and your physical stores. Let your clients book on-line and collect in-store with their preferred payment method.

Standard ECR Integration

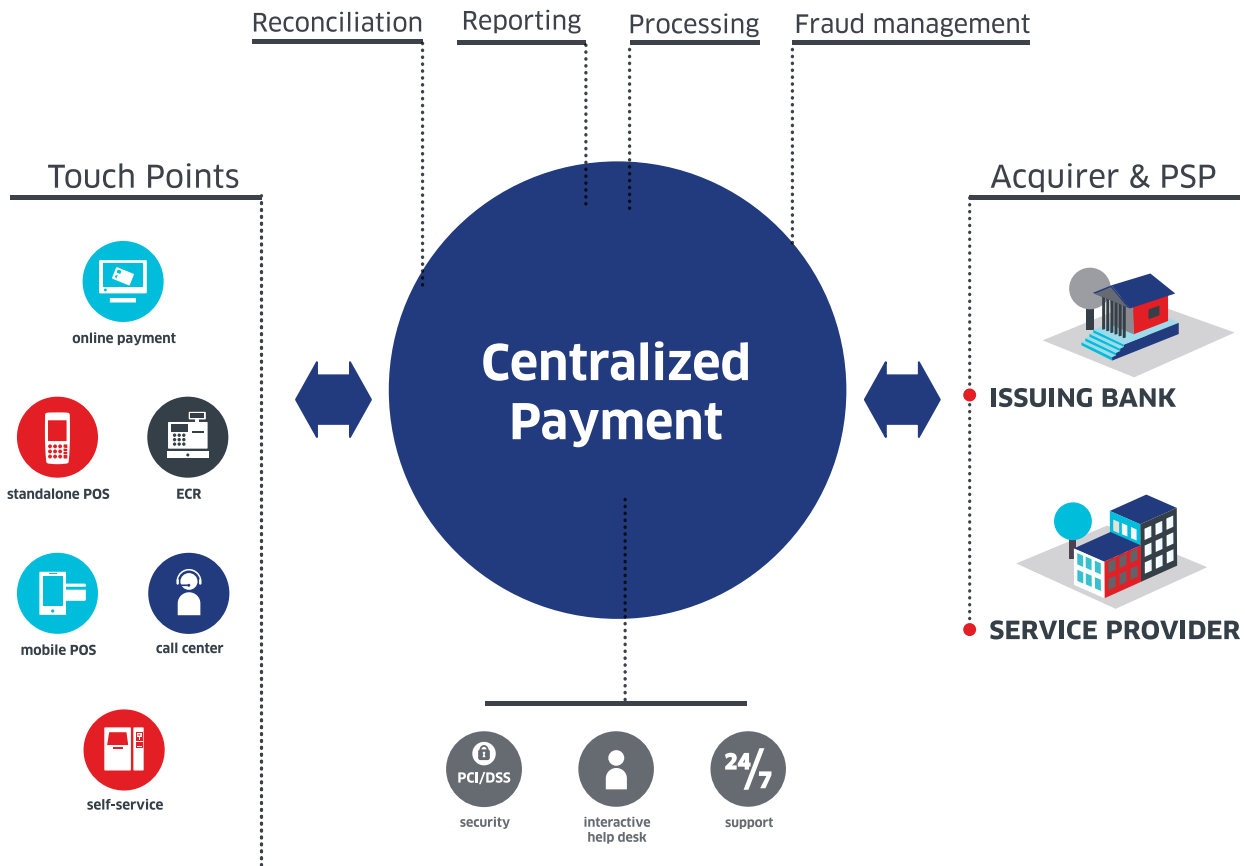

Our solution does the heavy lifting on terminal and POS software integration for you. Free up your IT team for strategic business needs.

Efficient Reporting for Straightforward Financial Reconciliation

Scheduled and immediate reporting allows you to access all the information on your cashless payment flows. Let your marketing team analyze the data to get full visibility on sales performance.

Remote Estate Management

Our solution includes all the elements needed to always support up-to-date transaction solution from server to POS terminals. Thanks to this, remote estate management ensures consistent delivery of software elements (content, key and application downloads) in order to support requested features and comply with the latest regulations.

www.ingenico.com